Hot Hollywood

NOVEMBER 23, 2015

When asked this fall to describe Hadid in one word, Jonas (Sept. 10) said, "Happiness."

That's Gigi Hadid strutting away. A source says the new Victoria's Secret runway model, 20, broke up with pop star Joe Jonas November 3. "She dumped him," says the source, noting that the DNCE band member, 26, looked forlorn at a Birchbox event later that night. Another insider calls the split "amicable," but admits Hadid's ex, Aussie singer Cody Simpson, was a factor. When Hadid hooked up with Jonas in May, she was just days removed from her two-year on-and-off romance with Simpson, 18. Now, says the insider, she realizes she shouldn't have rushed back in: "Cody was Gigi's first love, so she wants to spend time being single." As for Jonas, a source says, "they're both young, and he wants to focus on his band and date other people."

SPLIT!

BUSY BEAUTY She'd like to spend more time on the runway too. In the past year, the Maybelline brand ambassador and Sports Illustrated model has walked for the likes of Marc Jacobs and Chanel. Says a source, "Her career is on a major upswing, and she wants to capitalize on everything." Her next goal? Enjoying her time as an unattached twentysomething. "Gigi sees friends, like Kendall Jenner, who are all single," adds the pal, "and she wants to live that part of her life now."

"There will be another," Justice (top inset) wrote. "He'll be called 'The Best' until it ends."

EX-MEN UNITE

» The drama continues: A week after Halle Berry, 49, confirmed her split from third husband Olivier Martinez, 49, her first spouse, David Justice, slammed her November 2. "She was mad at me leaving the relationship, so she and her Hollywood team tried to destroy my character," he tweeted. "Only the guys in the relationship with Halle know the real deal." Though the retired MLB pro, 49, later apologized for bashing Berry, another former groom, Eric Benét, 49 (bottom inset), tweeted that Justice was serving "truth!"

SERENA WILLIAMS

Her Ballsy Heroics

» Superwoman on and off the court. On November 3, Williams, 34, successfully chased down a man who swiped her iPhone at Mission Chinese in San Francisco. (She was dining with her boyfriend, Reddit cofounder Alexis Ohanian, 32.) In a Facebook post the next day, the tennis champ called it a "win for the ladies," and boasted that she recovered the device after confronting the phone thief outside.

The 21-time Grand Slam winner asked the culprit if he "accidentally" took the wrong cell.

JOHN STAMOS

The actor's Grandfathered dressing room is no full house. "Back to work," Stamos, 52, captioned this solo shot October 19. "#dressingroomlife #happyplace."

Blissed opportunities: Stars share where they find their Zen

ADRIENNE BAILON

In May, the Real cohost, 32, revealed her peace of mind has a shelf life at a bookstore in Paris. "Shhhh don't tell anyone," she tweeted. "I'm secretly a nerd. #PARIS."

SHAY MITCHELL

At the end of a long day, the Pretty Little Liars star, 28, likes to enjoy a happy meal: "In bed," she tweeted in 2013, "watching documentaries and eating a bagel sandwich."

DEMI LOVATO

While recording her fifth album, Confident, in May, the "Cool for the Summer" singer, 23, shared this black-and-white studio photo with the simple caption: "My happy place."

JENNA USHKOWITZ

The Glee vet, 29, brought sunshine to a gloomy afternoon by heading to her Los Angeles gym: "A happy place on a very rainy day," she Instagrammed October 2. "Thanks @equinox."

ANGELA KINSEY

Stop and smell the discounts! The Office alum, 44, wrapped up a June shopping trip to Target with a smile: "Oh seasonal dollar bins," she wrote, "you are my happy place."

DREW BARRYMORE

The 40-year-old actress, author and mom of two found solace during a scenic island hike October 5. She hashtagged this pic: "#hikes2015 #hawaii #favoriteplaylist #happyplace."

SHEREE WHITFIELD

Château Woes

➤ Rome wasn't built in a day — and neither was Château Sheree. On The Real Housewives of Atlanta November 8 (Bravo, 8 P.M.), Whitfield, 45, admitted her 8,000-square-foot Georgia home still isn't complete after four years: "It takes time." And money. A source says Whitfield, who reportedly owes the IRS more than $100,000 in back taxes, is running out of cash: "She spends more than she has!"

Her original move-in date was in the summer of 2012!

Actress Meagan Good,
34, gives Us the full report on her go-to tote

Don't call Good's Louis Vuitton carryall a mess. "It's organized to me because I know what's there," jokes the star of Minority Report (Fox, Mondays, 9 P.M.). "My husband [film producer DeVon Franklin, 37] always asks me, 'Do you even know what's in here?' I'm like, 'Actually, I do!'" The L.A. native shows Us her goods.

THE SCOOP ON BOOP

"I carry a checkbook! My checks have Betty Boop because she's my girl. Usually when people get me stuff it will be a Betty Boop doll or glass figurine — whatever is available that's Betty."

GET THE MESSAGE

"I have tons of these Post-its, in purple, orange and pink. They're cool because they say positive stuff like LOVE YOURSELF."

THE RIGHT STUFFING

"I carry around my little teddy bear — his name is Javier. I've had him for about five years now. He kind of looks like SpongeBob SquarePants. When I'm on a plane, I sleep on him."

HERBAL REMEDY

"I carry green tea for energy. It's a loose tea; you can put it in water and shake it up.

I carry maybe two to three packets."

PACK IT IN

"I have this bag that my husband's aunt gave me. It was handmade in Africa. It's small, but I can fit a lot of things in it."

HYDRATION

the key to skin that glows from within

Introducing Neutrogena® Hydro Boost Water Gel.

Has your skin started to lose its get up and glow? Dehydration is a common culprit. Formulated with hyaluronic acid, new Hydro Boost is clinically proven to quench skin instantly and release continuous hydration all day. Skin is plump, deeply hydrated, and back to its glowing self.

- Lightweight gel texture
- Oil free

WHAT IS HYALURONIC ACID?

Hyaluronic acid (HA), naturally found in skin, is a powerful hydrator that holds up to 1,000 times its weight in water. It plays a critical role in keeping skin cells* hydrated and “plumped,” resulting in supple, youthful-looking skin. We lose Hyaluronic acid over time, but the added HA in Hydro Boost works to help keep skin hydrated and smooth, with a healthy-looking glow.

JILLIAN & PATRICK

Marriage Part Deux?

Paris hosts a reunion for the divorcing Dempseys

McDermott is giving his marriage CPR. Ten months after Jillian and Patrick Dempsey filed to end their 15-year union, the two held hands in Paris November 8. "They've been going on dates and trying to be a couple again," says a source of the pair, who have not rescinded their legal paperwork. The parents of Talulah, 13, and 8-year-old twins Darby and Sullivan are both working overseas (he's filming Bridget Jones's Baby in London; she's doing makeup for the Hunger Games European press tour) and reconnected after Patrick, 49, took responsibility for the split, says the insider. "He was going through a bit of a midlife crisis," the source says of the Grey's Anatomy vet. "But he's snapping out of it."

"There's still a lot of love between them," says a source of Jillian, 49, and Patrick, who biked and visited the French capital's Pont des Arts Nov. 8.

TOM CRUISE

He's Raging Over Remini

Leah Remini's tell-all, Troublemaker, has Tom Cruise, well, troubled. A source says the Mission: Impossible actor, 53, is "freaking out" about the King of Queens vet's dishy press tour for her Scientology-focused tome, which has included bizarre anecdotes about his tantrums and his church-influenced 2006 wedding to Katie Holmes. "He thinks it's a major betrayal," says the insider of her campaign. But don't expect the action star to take revenge against Remini, 45. "Leah is what the church calls a 'suppressive person,' so she's evil in his mind," says the pal. "He wipes the memory of any SP out of his life. He's letting the Scientology people discredit her."

With the Nanny

Gwen Stefani confronts Gavin Rossdale about his cheating — and new love Blake Shelton helps her cope BY ERIC ANDERSSON

Gwen Stefani can pinpoint the day her life “basically blew up.” As she told Ryan Seacrest in a November 3 interview, it was 24 hours after the Grammys — during which the singer, near tears and voice quivering, performed “My Heart Is Open” with Adam Levine. Though Stefani didn’t explain to the host what happened, a family source reveals the painful truth: On February 9, Stefani allegedly summoned the courage to confront husband Gavin Rossdale about disturbing text messages found on her kids’ iPad between him and their sons’ nanny Mindy Mann. “The iPad was linked to Gavin’s phone,” says the family source. “One of the other nannies discovered the exchange and told Gwen.” The texts were both shocking and explicit. According to the source, Mann had sent Rossdale several nude photos of herself, and the two also made plans to meet up and have sex. When challenged by his angry wife at the family’s Beverly Hills mansion, Rossdale insisted the exchange was just a “flirtation,” says a source. But Stefani, who promptly fired Mann, knew the truth in her heart. What Rossdale did, claims the source, “was unforgivable.”

It was also a vow-breaker. According to multiple sources, Stefani, 46, ended her marriage to the Bush frontman, 50, when he finally confessed to the affair. His admission months later “completely devastated her,” says the source. “She was mortified, livid and embarrassed.” Not only because her husband of nearly 13 years had cheated, but also because he had done so with the woman Stefani trusted to care for Kingston, 9, Zuma, 7, and Apollo, 20 months. Says the source, “This was right under Gwen’s nose.” Indeed, Stefani allegedly learned during the ensuing months that Mann, who often slept over when watching the kids, and Rossdale had a sexual relationship that lasted more than three years — including while she was pregnant with her third child. (Stefani’s rep could not be reached; a rep for Rossdale declined to comment.)

Now the “Used to Love You” singer is trying to put those nightmares behind her. U2 broke the news November 4 that in the wake of her agonizing split, she has started dating country superstar Blake Shelton, 39, her fellow mentor on NBC's The Voice. The friends bonded over their breakups — Shelton and wife of four years Miranda Lambert divorced in July — and took comfort in each other's arms. Stefani, who held hands with Shelton at a Country Music Association Awards afterparty November 4, is excited to explore her new relationship, says the family source. "It's nice to see her happy again after being in an unhappy marriage with a cheater for so long."

► SUSPICIOUS MINDS

Stefani was searching for help in 2008 when friends recommended Mann. The blonde-haired Australian, in turn, jumped at the chance to work for alt-rock's

First Couple, starting off as a fill-in helper before becoming permanent. Soon, Mann "began to post pictures on social media dressed in a similar way to Gwen," says the family source. (In 2013, Mann snapped a selfie showing off her platinum

'do swept up in a black bandanna, strikingly similar to a Stefani red carpet look.) "If Gwen would eat something or do a workout or get a new handbag, Mindy would do the same thing," alleges the source. "Gwen thought it was weird."

Her misgivings about Mann only intensified. In 2012, photographers snapped Rossdale, on a hike with Kingston and Zuma in L.A., with his hand on Mann's backside. The pictures, splashed all over the internet, caused an uproar in the press . . . and at home. "Gavin insisted Mindy was stumbling and he tried to keep her from falling," says the family source. Meanwhile, someone in Rossdale's circle

Stefani performed with Adam Levine at the Grammys Feb. 8 — one day before allegedly confronting Rossdale.

MARCH 2013

FEBRUARY 2015

Just days before she learns of the affair, Stefani heads to Planet Nails in West Hollywood with Mann and the kids.

JULY 2014

leaked to the press that this mystery woman was his sister (as Barbara Walters recounted on The View). Continues the source, "Gwen's suspicions were aroused. She thought something was up."

Her intuition was spot-on. By that time, according to the source, Rossdale and Mann were in the throes of an affair. "They were hooking up all over," continues the source. "He couldn't control himself."

Though Rossdale and Mann tried to be discreet, those close to Stefani suspected Rossdale was more than just an employer. "People knew something was up," says a Rossdale source. Stefani's worst fears were realized when those text messages popped up on her kids' iPad. Continues the source, "That was the first time Gwen caught him red-handed."

EARLY TROUBLE

The nanny was not the only woman to cause problems in Stefani and Rossdale's two-decade relationship. The brooding, soft-spoken Brit — who met Stefani when her band, No Doubt, opened on tour for Bush in 1995 — had a reputation as a ladies' man with a weakness for groupies. "I'm in a band. . . I know exactly what goes on backstage," Stefani told Jane magazine in 2002. "I wish I had a little leash to walk Gavin around."

Rossdale couldn't be tethered. "He struggled with monogamy," offers the source. At the start of their romance, the pair split and reunited several times amid reports Rossdale had flings with the Corrs frontwoman Andrea Corr, All Saints singer Nicole Appleton and even Courtney Love. "Man, he was such an Adonis in his day," Love bragged to Howard Stern in 2010 about an eight-month fling she claimed they had in the '90s. "He got good in bed . . . something happened. Maybe Gwen taught him." Incredulous,

Top Nanny No-Nos

- Mindy Mann is not the first nanny to allegedly cross the line. (Remember Ben Affleck, Jude Law, Ethan Hawke and Arnold Schwarzenegger's reported dalliances with their hires?) Ginger Swift, president of the California-based Association of Premier Nanny Agencies, tells Us what behavior should raise red flags.
- No references? No deal, says Swift. "Talking to families the nanny has previously worked for is the most important thing before hiring."
- Be wary of nannies who advertise their personal business. "It's important to keep a professional relationship," says Swift.
- If the nanny is present, the kids should be too. Hanging out with employers one-on-one, she says, "is just strange."

Stern asked point blank if Love's dalliance with Rossdale happened at the same time he was with Stefani. "Yes," Kurt Cobain's widow replied, adding, "She does know."

Stefani was in the dark about a much bigger secret. In 2004, two years after they marked their wedding with two lavish ceremonies in London and Beverly Hills, Rossdale shocked his wife by admitting he was actually the father of his then 15-year-old goddaughter, model Daisy Lowe. Lowe's mom, Pearl, a close Ross-dale friend (she even attended the couple's nuptials!), had told Daisy that she suspected the rocker might be the girl's father; Daisy took a DNA test and asked Rossdale to do the same. "Gavin insisted right up to the paternity test that he had never slept with Pearl," a source told Us at the time. But the paternity test came back positive, and the truth nearly tore Stefani and Rossdale apart. "It was a very rocky time, and very stressful," says the family source. "But Gwen is a trouper. She's an Italian Catholic girl who was determined not to get divorced."

That stubborn streak kept her committed to Rossdale. Still, "Gwen heard rumors about other affairs," says the family source. The few times when she did question her husband about women, Rossdale turned on his megawatt smile. "Gavin can be very charming when he wants to be," continues the family source. "Gwen wanted to preserve their family, so she always ended up believing his denials."

Until Mann, that is. After the big confrontation, Rossdale reportedly continued to deny the affair. "But other people, including a second nanny, came forward telling her they knew about the relationship," claims the family source. "Gavin had to come clean." Fed up, Stefani — worth a reported $80 million and lacking a prenup — filed for divorce August 3. "Gwen didn't want to lose everything she worked for," continues the source. "She started meeting with lawyers to get everything in order. It was so hard, but Gwen leaned on family and friends."

Shelton, who was in the midst of a split from Lambert.

"Both of them went through a rough time with their spouses, and they found each other," says the family source. Stefani admitted in an interview with a Texas radio station November 6 that Shelton, with a reputation as one of the nicest guys in the industry, guided her through the "tragedy" of her split: "He's a pretty rad guy. I have to say that ... Blake really helped me."

The Voice viewers had a front-row seat to the friends' budding flirtation. On the September 29 episode, Stefani called Shelton "sweet," and he, in turn, got up and danced in front of her chair. "They have a major chemistry," says a Shelton source. The two talked not only about heartbreak, but work too. "He'd play her country songs, and he was a sounding board for her music," says the Shelton source. "They seem different on the outside, but they have a lot in common." So much so that Shelton broached the subject of dating, continues the source. "A few weeks ago, Blake looked at his buddy Gwen and said, 'Why don't we try this out?'"

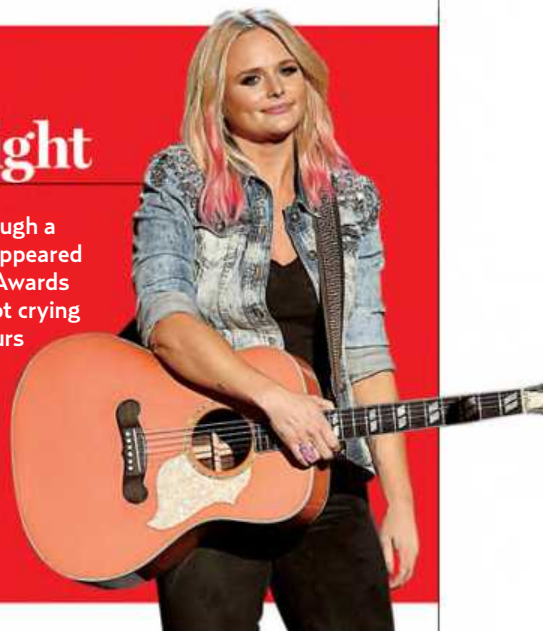

They've been practically inseparable ever since. On October 23, Shelton took Stefani — and Voice co-mentor Adam Levine — to his native Oklahoma, where he owns a ranch. The next weekend, the new couple walked hand in hand at Jared Leto's Halloween party (where, it should be noted, Stefani dressed as a cowgirl). They finally made their official debut as a couple in Nashville November 4 at the Warner Music party following the CMA Awards. "They looked like happy people to me! They were smiling cheek to cheek," says eyewitness Evan Lamannia, who saw Stefani and Shelton together at the bash. "You know how it is when a girl and a guy first start dating."

By all accounts, the pair are enjoying the early stages of their new romance. "They laugh, tell jokes, go to dinners, watch movies and TV," says the Shelton source. "He adores her. It's really cute." She feels the same about him. "They are having the best time together," says the family source. "Blake and Gwen deserve to be happy — and they are."

Miranda's Emotional Night

» She's still country strong. Though a source tells Us Lambert, 32, appeared to be upset backstage at the CMA Awards November 4, a source says she's not crying about ex-husband Shelton. Just hours before she took the stage, Stefani's rep confirmed their romance in a statement to Us. "Miranda had her suspicions but didn't really know it was a real thing until the announcement," a Lambert source says. "But she doesn't care. He can date who he wants."

Shortly after Whitney Port accepted a ring from love Tim Rosenman in 2013, she began crafting her perfect day. “Originally my idea of my wedding was going to be on a beach somewhere,” the L.A.-raised alum of The Hills tells Us. “And I was going to wear a slip dress like Cindy Crawford.”

Plans can change for a perfectionist bride. Two years and 150 (!) rejected venues later (“It was a labor of love,” says her sister Ashley, who planned the affair with her company, BK Events), Port, 30, walked down a grass aisle at Colony 29, an estate in the Palm Springs, California, mountains, November 7. The Whitney Eve designer — who nixed all flowers save for her bouquet of blushing brides — wore a high-low pearl-embroidered Ashi Studio gown that, as her 34-year-old groom tells Us, left him “blown away.” During the 30-minute ceremony led by the fiancé of another Port sister, Port told the man who produced her Hills spinoff, The City, she would kiss him “every night.” He, in turn, called her “my entire life.” Says Port, “I felt like I was floating. It was by far the best moment of the night.”

And perhaps the most traditional. In place of a sit-down dinner, the 200 guests ate branzino and twice-baked potatoes from stations and sipped drinks — such as the Martini & Rossi Prosecco and peach framboise “Little Whitty” — at eight lounge setups. “We wanted to create one long cocktail party with lots of dancing,” says Port. The pair did keep one reception fixture. “We ended up doing the hora,” says Rosenman of the Jewish dance. Now Port is eager to step into their future. “After we were married, I immediately felt different,” she says. “I know that sounds crazy, but it’s true!”

Justin Bieber opens up to Us about facing the music — and finding his Purpose

Somewhere between the drag racing and the trash talking, many fans stopped Beliebing. But Justin Bieber never did. “I was never strung out, a mess or lost my mind,” insists the “Sorry” singer, 21, reflecting on a string of dustups that also included egging a neighbor’s home, a DUI arrest and getting caught in a brothel. Through it all, he was certain he’d persevere through the troubles. “I knew the world would see I was just growing up,” he explains. While recording his album Purpose at an L.A. studio in October, Bieber called Us’ Ian Drew to set the record straight.

PRIDE IS MY WORST ENEMY

He handles attention these days by "just trying to be kind."

"I was so overcome with emotion," he recalls of his August VMAs breakdown.

Q: Why did you name your album Purpose?

While recording the title song, it hit me: I had lost my purpose and found it again. Growing up in the industry stole my soul. I got lost and had no desire to make music. Everything was about my ego. My dad recently told me, "Pride is your worst enemy. It will pull the greatness out of you." I ran to put it in my phone so I'd never forget it.

Q: You decided to take a year off at the end of your Believe tour in December 2013 — then things got bad. Do you regret it?

Hell, no. I needed time to not work and figure out life — the good and the bad. I'm disappointed in stuff I did, but that was my learning process. I'm not totally where I want to be yet but I'm glad I'm not where I was.

Q: What was the hardest part about that period?

What people were saying about my parents. It really hurt my feelings because they had nothing to do with my bad decisions.

Q: How do you handle all the criticism and scrutiny? Those unauthorized nude photos just went viral . . .

It's hard to tune everything out, but I do my best. I take most things with a grain of salt and know my lifestyle involves people prying. I'm 21. I'm gonna drink, have fun and, yes, mess up. I'm fine with that, but I try to not give them too much ammo these days.

Q: Why did you cry on stage at MTV's Video Music Awards?

I was so overwhelmed from feeling so much love and acceptance again. I couldn't do anything else but break down.

Q: Do you feel more embraced by adult fans now?

Definitely. I was more than shocked when "Where Are U Now?" became a big hit. I hadn't put out a song in so long! It was perfect timing because I was finally in a good place. But I think people actually accepted me because of my bad decisions. They made me more human. Most people go through a period of life where they are figuring things out.

Q: Is that why you got so personal on this album?

Absolutely. I still have a lot of doubts about myself and feel like I'm not good enough. I realized everyone feels that way. The album is my way of saying, "Hey, we're all in this together."

Q: And still critics accused you of singing about rape in "What Do You Mean."

Wow, people take things way out of context! It came from me laughing about how with girls you have no idea what they mean when they nod their head yes and say no. Every man has those moments. You just can't figure it out!

Q: So, how is single life?

Not bad at all. I'm still not ready to date again. I really rushed my last relationship with Selena [Gomez]. We were too young to know what we were doing and invested too much of ourselves into each other. But I learned from her how to treat a woman next time, making them feel secure.

Q: Do you guys still talk?

Yeah, she's my homey! Not every day, but every now and then she hits up my phone. Well, I hit hers too.

Diplo in the Groove

He's the producer pop stars always lean on when they need a hit. But to concoct "Lean On," Diplo, 37, focused all his time and attention on his group, Major Lazer. "It took a full year to record that one song," the DJ (born Thomas Pentz) tells Us of the global smash. "We kept rewriting until it was perfect. [Singer] MØ was so patient with me. But it was my biggest record ever, so I'm glad we did it." LUCKY STAR The single dad of two is also grateful for his months spent working with Madonna on her Rebel Heart album. # 25 Things You Don't Know About Me

The "My Way" rapper, 24, gets candid

1. My actual name is Willie — not William — Maxwell.
2. I didn't grow up in the projects but a normal home in Paterson, New Jersey, with my parents, Willie and Doria, and sister Divinity. I have a key to the city now!
3. Twins run in my family.
4. As a kid, I was in love with the movie Space Jam.

5. I'm obsessed with YSL cologne.

6. My children [son Aydin, 4, and daughter Zaviera, 7 months] are the most important people in my life.
7. My favorite meal is steak with mashed potatoes.
8. The best fast-food spot is In-N-Out Burger.
9. I own over 150 pairs of Robin's Jeans, though I'd love to design my own line.

10. I'm addicted to Planters trail mix with nuts and chocolate.

11. I named my alter ego Zoovier.
12. I have always dreamed of traveling to Bora Bora.
13. I've been skydiving. It's a crazy experience!
14. Thanksgiving is my favorite holiday.
15. If I could meet anyone in the world it would definitely be Michael Jordan.
16. I wish I could visit the Louis Vuitton store in France.

17. I buy two to three pairs of the same Air Jordans at a time.

18. I can't stand pancakes!
19. I taught myself how to play the piano and drums.
20. I'm a huge video game fan, especially NBA 2K16.
21. I greatly prefer Instagram over Twitter. And driving over flying!

22. There's nothing better than making people laugh.
23. The worst quality in a person is being judgmental.
24. My biggest goal in life is to become a billionaire.
25. It makes me so happy to see other people besides myself become successful.

Fetty Wap's chart-topping, self-titled debut album is out now.

UnReal star Appleby and chef fiancé Jon Shook invite Us into the "focal point" of their home, where, he readily admits, "Shiri does most of the cooking!"

Inside My KITCHEN

SHIRI APPLEBY

The heart of the room is the "natural, raw" custom wood table with a built-in bench. It fits 12 and doubles as a food-prep area. Says Appleby, "I wanted it to be this big space that does so many things!"

Family Staples

1. Shiri Appleby, 36, has lived in her three-bedroom West Hollywood house for 15 years. (Jon Shook, 34, arrived in 2010.) One cool feature: the Viking fridge. On its front, the couple (who are expecting a child in December) display 2-year-old daughter Natalie's art. At the moment, "the pictures are shapes because we're working on them," says the star of the Lifetime drama, which returns in 2016.
2. The actress and Shook, who owns six L.A. restaurants, whip up dishes (think prime-rib nachos) with All-Clad pans. She uses the brand's kettle for fresh mint tea: "Natalie likes to eat the leaves!"
3. The chef gave Appleby a John Boos butcher block for her birthday two months into their relationship. Five years later, she says, "we use it for everything!"

STYLING: STACEY KALCHMAN. HAIR: VANESSA GOMEZ. MAKEUP: JAMIE GREENBERG. THE WALL GROUP. CLOTHING (ON SHIRI): JAMES PERSE (DRESS); VINCE CAMUTO (SHOES); ARIEL GORDON (NECKLACE); AU RATE (RING). CLOTHING (ON JON): A. P.C. (SHIRT)

1. Appleby warms shells for "taco Tuesday" in a Breville toaster oven.
 2. A Crate & Barrel vase that sat on her grandmother's table now makes new memories: "Every week my daughter and I cut flowers at the farmers' market and put them in it."
 3. The clock counts down the days until baby No. 2's arrival. Says the actress, "We try to keep things fun!"

→ A tradition sprouted soon after the couple met. "We've made this dish every Thanksgiving since we've been together," Appleby tells Us. "I like to have many options of greens on the table for my family."

- 1 tbsp plus 1 tsp kosher salt
- 2 lb brussels sprouts, outer leaves removed
- 6 oz sliced bacon, halved crosswise
- 2 shallots, halved and thinly sliced
- 3 garlic cloves, thinly sliced
- 3 cups heavy cream
- 1 tsp freshly ground black pepper

- 1 Fill a Dutch oven with water and bring to a boil. Add 1 tbsp kosher salt and brussels sprouts. Cook on high until tender, but not mushy, 5 to 7 minutes.
- 2 Drain sprouts and place under cold running water. Drain again. On a cutting board, halve sprouts lengthwise. Set aside.
- 3 Wipe pot dry and place it back on the stovetop over medium-high heat. Add bacon and cook until both sides are browned and crispy. Drain bacon on

- a paper towel-lined plate. Let cool. Crumble bacon.
- 4 Pour off all but 1 tbsp bacon fat. Add shallots and garlic to pot. Cook over medium-high heat until lightly brown and fragrant, about 2 minutes.
- 5 Add cream. Simmer until cream has reduced by half, 5 to 7 minutes. Add remaining 1 tsp kosher salt and the black pepper. Stir in sprouts and gently coat in the sauce. Transfer sprouts to a serving bowl and top with crumbled bacon.

She lands three straight Sports Illustrated Swimsuit edition covers.

1982

Her second marriage, to Billy Joel, lasts nine years and produces Alexa Ray.

1 PUT DOWN THE POWDER

Talc settles into fine lines. Sheer, creamy formulas, however, "define your features and cover any flaws," says Christie Brinkley. She uses 3Lab BB cream with SPF 40 ($100, dermstore.com) and By Terry blush in Bubble Glow (right, $44, beauty.com).

2 SNEAK IN EXERCISE

When the mom of Alexa

Ray Joel, 29, Jack, 20, and Sailor, 17, is watching TV at home in Sag Harbor, New York, "I'll shoot my legs out and tuck them in several times to work my stomach muscles," she tells Us. And she does squats while drying her hair!

3 EAT AN APPLE A DAY

Really. When enjoyed 20 minutes before a meal, she says, the fiber-filled fruit leaves you "feeling satiated sooner." (Translation: You'll skip that second serving.) On her occasional cheat day, the supermodel indulges in "fresh mozzarella still dripping and oozing" or locally sourced oysters.

4 PUMP UP THE VOLUME

"My hair has gotten thinner," confesses the natural blonde, who wears clip-in pieces from her eponymous line of extensions. Unlike woven-in weaves, these "won't snag or pull in your sleep," which can lead to more hair loss. A bonus: "Boom! You've got Beyoncé hair." ($49, in 11 hues, hair2wear.com)

5 VISIT THE DOCTOR

Four times a year, Brinkley sees a dermatologist for an array of procedures — Botox injections to chisel her jawline, Juvederm fillers to reduce lines around her mouth, Clear + Brilliant laser treatments to even skin tone and TriPollar Apollo radio-frequency waves to zap creases above her knees.

6 FAKE A SCULPTED BOD

Several days before hitting the beach, she applies Jergens self-tanner for a trimmer-looking physique. Her tip: Start with the brand's fair-to-medium blend, then mix with medium-to-dark and progress to just medium-to-dark. Clarins' botanical extract-packed cream helps firm her thighs and abs. ($64, clarinsusa.com)

7 SNACK SMARTLY

The vegan avoids collagen breakdown caused by a high-sugar diet and bloating from sodium overload by reaching for healthy bites. Frozen blueberries crushed in a blender, for one, "taste like you're indulging in ice cream," she says.

8 EXFOLIATE, EXFOLIATE

Each morning, Brinkley uses the lactic acid-filled cleanser from her beauty line to degunk pores and refine her face's texture. "It's something I've done for 40 years," says the star. Hydration is a key priority too. When her daughters are home, "we all sit around with masks on!" ($35, christiebrinkley.com)

Marvel's Jessica Jones

Comic-Con's new queen! Krysten Ritter is on fire in Netflix's latest binge

First, Supergirl. Now, Supercomplicated-badass. That would be NYC private eye Jessica Jones (Breaking Bad's Krysten Ritter). And like any alluringly moody gumshoe on the skids, she lives in a dingy apartment, overboozes and takes seemingly run-of-the-mill cases (adultery, missing persons) that prove dark and dangerous. She also has — spoiler! — secret powers, a fact that's unveiled with sly nonchalance when she lifts a would-be escapee's car off the ground. Oh, but this comic-book noir tale, sleekly crafted and invigoratingly intelligent, holds a multitude of surprises. Jessica's requisite troubled past, for one thing, involves a truly terrifying nemesis: Kilgrave (David Tennant), a mind controller whose encounter with Jessica left her with PTSD. (Carrie-Anne Moss, as a tough corporate client, and Rachael Taylor, as an old friend, lend exceptional support.) Her mission to stop Kilgrave from putting others into horror-laden trances isn't just compelling, it stands as a devastating allegory for violence against women. Ritter hangs tough herself. Starting off a little one-note glib, she ultimately sinks into her troubled loner role with all the mettle and witty asides fans crave. She's the most Marvel-ous female hero yet. (Netflix, all 13 episodes available)

The Man in the High Castle

Suddenly, President Donald Trump sounds positively comforting! This expensive drama, based on Philip K. Dick's classic novel, imagines Americans living under Nazi and Japanese rule in 1962 after losing World War II. Castle's spooky premise (gas chambers in the Midwest?!) translates to excitement as San Francisco idealist Juliana (Alexa Davalos) gets caught up with resistance fighters — and double agents. The heroes and baddies are both a bit flimsy. But the hint that their world is a parallel universe connected to ours is magnetic. (Amazon Prime, all 10 episodes available)

Rufus Sewell glowers as an American-born Nazi.

Elizabeth Hurley is the queen.

SUNDAY 11/15

The Royals

Decadent, dynamic, often absurd — this soap about Britain's (fictional) royal family remains as over-the-top as a violet-plumed fascinator. Season 2 finds the prince (William Moseley) and his party-girl sister (a wry Alexandra Park) investigating the king's murder. Viewers bothered that Scotland Yard doesn't seem to be on the case will be distracted by Royals' style and wit. The palace-dwellers' pesky TMZ? A website called D-Throned! (E!, 10 P.M.)

MOVIES

BY MARA REINSTEIN

OPENS FRIDAY 11/13

The 33

Of course you remember the story: In 2010, 33 Chilean miners were trapped beneath thousands of feet of rock for 69 days. Their ordeal is simply astounding. Their movie . . . is decidedly less so. Most of the workers underground are indistinguishable except for Mario (Antonio Banderas), the leader and voice of reason. He's the one who divvies up milk rations in the bunker and breaks up petty squabbles. (A subplot about his postrescue book deal is superfluous.) Meanwhile, in the fresh air, a thinly drawn team of engineers and politicians attempts to devise a rescue plan and calm the families. There's nothing, well, groundbreaking in the re-creation of this drama — but as a moving lesson in resilience and brotherhood, it's quite solid.

Mario (Banderas) is able to communicate with his family.

Trumbo (Cranston) wins two Oscars.

OUT NOW

Trumbo

For his next triumph, Bryan Cranston deep-dives into the role of a fiercely talented but scorned screenwriter. He plays Dalton Trumbo, who in the 1950s got blacklisted from the industry because of his Communist beliefs. Director Jay Roach unspools this dark chapter in Hollywood history against a glossy, sun-kissed backdrop. It's crisply told, yet there's no reason it couldn't have been an HBO movie.

Bell is a good sport on her date.

OPENS FRIDAY 11/13

Man Up

Look, it's a unicorn! Actually, it's a smart and winning rom-com — which is just as rare these days. In a London train station, a recent divorcé (Simon Pegg) mistakes a girl (Lake Bell, delightful) for his blind date. She goes against every cynical fiber in her being and plays along, and the two embark on a night of magic. (She comes clean early on too.) Both leads are relatable and endearing. (Also on VOD and iTunes starting November 20)
